CITY IN BRIEF.

The county and city treasurers are now ready to receive taxes.
Bishop Knickerbocker will preach at the Church of the Holy Innocents this evening.
The Bee Hive Saving and Loan Association, of this city, has been incorporated.
Capital stock, $100,000.
A. H. Hutchinson, "the boy lecturer," will address the people of the Fifth Presbyterian Church at 7:30 this evening.

The National State Capital Bank of Cincinnati, N. H., has filed suit in the Federal Court against the town of Monticello to collect $4,000, said to be due on bonds issued in 1878.

The race between Prince Wells, on bicycle, and Walter Dean, on skates, at the Wigwam Rink last night resulted, as on the previous evening, in a victory for the skater. The distance was three miles, and the time twelve minutes and two seconds.

The petition of Henry H. Porter in the suit of Hack et al. vs. the C. and G. S. Railroad asking for the transfer of the suit now pending in the Newton County Court to the Federal Court, and making John C. New a party thereto, has been denied by Judge Woods.

All who wish to enjoy a theatrical treat, and at the same time help the Light Infantry to procure much-needed new uniforms, should purchase tickets to their benefit, which takes place at the Grand Opera House the last half of next week, from the members of the company, who now have them for sale.

The children, grandchildren and great grandchildren are preparing to celebrate the one hundredth birth anniversary of James Hubbard, who has lived near Augusta since 1832, and who will be a centenarian on the 27th of this month. The four children now living are Richard Hubbard, of Mapleton; Solomon Hubbard, of Iowa; Charles, of Nebraska, and Mrs. Thomas Richards, of this city.

In answer to the charge that he has failed to give credit on the books for taxes paid by checks on Harrison's Bank, Treasurer Wasson says that J. C. S. Harrison presented a list of property for taxation for which he was agent, and he took receipts giving Mr.
Wasson credit in his bank account. As the bank was then insolvent the taxes were returned delinquent, and suit has been filed to test the questions involved.

AMUSEMENTS.

CHARLOTTE THOMPSON IN "PHILLIS DENBOR"

Charlotte Thompson appears to night for the first time in "Phyllis Denbor," in the new play of that title. The plot is taken from the story of "Dark Days." The scenes are laid in England and France; it is romantic and full of power. Two of the scenes—that of the "Murder in the Snow Storm" in England, and the "Siege of Paris," during the Franco-Prussian War, are startling and vividly interesting. As has been represented, the company possesses beautiful and appropriate costumes for each separate production. "Romanoff" was played to a good audience last night. The star and her excellent support acted their parts in a highly creditable manner. In the prison scene, Miss Thompson's talent showed itself to splendid advantage. "Phyllis Denbor" will be repeated at the matinee to-morrow, and in the evening "East Lynne" will conclude the engagement.

"FANTASMA" AT THE GRAND.
With the heralding of the wonders of "Fantasma," the audience which greeted its first performance at the Grand expected much, and anything less than something extraordinary would have been unsatisfactory.
But the most vivid imagination was short of the oriental magnificence of the spectacle, the marvelous mechanical effects, the drollery of pantomime and the attractive specialties. It is equal in gorgeousness to any of the scenes of "Black Crook," its beautiful and its objectionable features of that spectacular play. "Fantasma" is wholesome throughout. It reaches the very acme of spectacular pantomime.
The audience is transported into a wonderful world where the fairies hold dominion. Grand and beautiful tableaux strike the eye with admiration. A realistic cyclone illustrates the forces of nature in anger, the arctic regions are reflected with scenes illustrating the hardships of the explorers. A sword combat of one man against four thrills the lookers on as has no such feat ever before seen, and a thousand and one other just such startling effects "Fantasma" is not exclusively a pantomime.
Words have been written for two of its characters ("Fantasma," the good fairy queen, and "Zamuel," the bad King of the Island of Heeds) by Charles H. Hoyt. It is, of course, the usual story of the Demon's persecution of two young lovers, who, befriended over their arch-enemy, and at the same time overcome the prejudices of their irate parents. But to secure this result it takes two acts and a harlequinade—nine scenes in all—and one can hardly count the adventures and misadventures detailed by a remarkably clever company in the short space of 150 minutes. For instance, a showing some of the novel effects introduced in "Fantasma," we have a demon dropping out of the clouds to make havoc in a rustic village, a witch's chariot, a new kind of magic bell, a life-like bull with a peacock for breaking and entering, a practical bridge with a convenient trap for the demon, the clown, a real stage cyclone, a devil's garden wherein vegetables change to human heads, a mysterious coach which manufactures occupants to order, a transportable grate-fire with a happy faculty of placing itself wherever desired, a rowing clown's nether parts, a peripatetic chair, a candle troubled with pedestrianism, and a score more of tricks and effects not now recalled, but all of which add to the completeness of this last venture of the Hanlons. The allegorical finale of the first act, too, is a great factor in enthusing the house.
It is a series of tableaux representing the progress of science as applied to North Pole explorations, and the cheers that greet the Greely party "picture"—America to the front, loyally enough—at least at once the patriotism of the auditors and the cleverness of the Hanlons in working up the effect. It should be understood that "Fantasma" is the idea and invention of the Hanlons, and, accordingly, to the Hanlons belong the honors of the production. Those who are familiar with the Cincinnati method of doing pantomimes will hear with pleasure that nothing yet seen in this country has so closely approached the foreign methods as has "Fantasma." The company of pantomimists proper are entirely new in America, and consist of Mos-sini Pizzarello, who did the white face clown "Pico," and whose make-up and entire methods may be regarded as new to our pantomime stage; of Sig. Gerolamo Pasterini, the Harlequin and young lover, whose sword combat with four antagonists, all attacking one, caused a perfect furore among the male portion of the audience; Sig. Alessandro Angiolini, "Pico's" clown, and "Pandaloon," a quiet but effective and graceful pantomimist; of Signorina Rosina Maschi, the persecuted heroine and under the name happy "Columbine"; of Sig. Lorenzo Ca-tano and Pietro Mare, the irate parents of the young people; and of Sig. Adolph Roccadi, who, as the "Demon Sprite," gave evidence of a very satisfactory singleness and velocity of movement. Next to the white man service, he was the nominal stage-manager, the "Bad King" and the "Fright Friend," and he might have played three or four more parts if he had had the time at his disposal. Kate Davis delivered the heroic lines of "Fantasma" in a most satisfactory manner. The minor roles were well sustained, and the small people were grouped well and moved about with plenty of life—a great essential in a piece of this character. We nearly forgot Phil Purcell, who does three or four animals in excellent style; indeed, he is the best we have seen in the line of animal delineators. John A. Thompson's new scenery is artistic and elegant, and the machinery and properties are naturally good, because they are from the models of Robert F. Cutler, himself an old time pantomimist. Standing room will be at a premium during the remainder of the engagement, tonight, to-morrow afternoon and to-morrow night.

Personal Liberty Protection Association.
About 100 persons were present yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock in Mozart Hall in response to the call issued and published in the papers. Christ Waterman was made Temporary Chairman and Louis E. Esma-Secretary. After some discussion C. C. Haderich, Henry Schwine, John Hugel, Frank Mans and P. H. McNell were appointed Committee on Permanent Organization. There will be another meeting on Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at Mozart Hall, when permanent organization will be effected, constitution and by-laws adopted and officers elected.

LEGISLATIVE NOTES.

The Vote Defeating the Appellate Court Bill Reconsidered.

The Bill Concerning Prosecutors' Fees Recalled From the Senate.

The Rivers' Abandonment of Office Measure Provokes a Lengthy Discussion.

The Senate will meet again this afternoon, having been adjourned for the past two days.
The House having ordered an extra clerk, it is understood that Miss Emma Hennix, of New Albany, who served as folding clerk during the regular session, will be given the position.

A resolution was adopted in the House yesterday afternoon instructing the Clerk of the Supreme Court to report the number of cases on the docket, and the total number decided during the past year.

The colored citizens will meet in the Supreme Court room on Monday night for the purpose of ratifying the action of the Legislature in passing the Civil Rights bill. Senator Thompson, the author of the bill, and Representative Gooding, who was its special champion in the House, will make speeches on the occasion.

It is understood that the friends of Dr.
Edenharter, Councilman from the Eighth Ward, will urge him for a position in the Pension Office here. It is generally conceded that Mayor Zollinger, of Fort Wayne, will be appointed and the position desired for the Doctor by his friends, is the next in rank in the office.

The House adjourned yesterday afternoon till 2 o'clock Saturday, but an arrangement has been made for adjourning again at that time till Monday. It is not expected that a quorum will be present on Saturday and this, together with the adjournment, will be necessary. Very few of the members who left yesterday will return till Monday.

By a vote of 40 to 37 the House yesterday reconsidered its action in defeating the Appellate Court bill, and 300 copies of the same were ordered printed. The Judges of the Supreme Court are unanimous in the opinion that some relief is necessary, and it may be that the bill will yet get through. The opposition in the House has been very determined, but the fact that the vote defeating the bill has been reconsidered gives some gleam of hope that it may yet pass.

In his explanation of his vote on House bill 159, concerning the teaching of German in the schools, Mr. Browning was yesterday incorrectly quoted as saying: "If the time comes to discriminate against either the Germans or the colored race, I shall discriminate against the Germans." What he did say was exactly the reverse. He said he was opposed to discriminate against either the Germans or the colored race, either the Germans or the colored race, I shall discriminate against the colored race; but there is no need of any discrimination against either."

The opposition of the prosecuting attorneys to the passage of House bill 37, which cuts off their fees in cases where pleas of guilty are entered, seems to have had a salutary effect, and the House yesterday adopted a motion to call the bill back from the Senate. The author of the bill protested against such action, asserting that there was a strong lobby influence at work to defeat the bill, and that the proposition to call it back was only another way of defeating it. It was opposed to the delay, which he asserted endangered its passage. The main objection to the bill, which seems not to have been well understood when it passed the House, is the provision "that if a defendant, on arraignment, pleads guilty, the Justice shall not notify the prosecutor or his deputy, and in no case shall a fee be allowed a prosecuting attorney unless he or his deputy is present."

The bill introduced by Mr. Rivers, of Johnson, providing that county officers shall be declared vacant when the holders thereof shall have been absent from them, without good cause, for sixty days, came up yesterday on a third reading, and the entire afternoon was consumed in the discussion of its provisions and the cases which gave rise to its introduction. Mr. Reeves, of Bartholomew, moved to refer the bill to the Judiciary Committee, and explained that it was meant to affect only one person, Jefferson Clemmer, the Recorder of Johnson County, who had abandoned his office, which was now filled by his brother, who had paid off his debts.
He wanted the bill amended so as to exempt this case from its provisions, because he believed that the office was now competently filled by a man who had sacrificed his private fortune to pay the debts of an erring brother. A dozen or more members spoke upon the bill, among them Mr. Rivers, its author, who claimed that the passage of the bill was demanded by the people of his county; that the present status of affairs left the records in doubt, and might be the cause of endless litigation if some steps were not taken to fill the office properly. He denied that there was any effort to throw Clemmer's brother out of the office, but said that he had promised and would use his influence to have the present incumbent appointed by the Commissioners should the bill pass. Considerable interest and a small amount of feeling have been worked up by the introduction of the bill, and up to adjournment yesterday no vote was taken.
The matter will come up again on Monday as unfinished business.

THEY WILL BUILD.

The K. of P. Making Arrangements for the Erection of a New Building on the Corner of Delaware and Market Streets.

The members of the K. of P. met yesterday afternoon in their hall, in the Talbot & New Block, to perfect arrangements for the formation of an association to be known as the "Knights of Pythias Hall Association." It has been stated heretofore that this lodge contemplated the erection of a building on the northwest corner of Market and Delaware streets, and it is intended to issue 1,000 shares at $100 each, thus limiting the capital stock to $100,000. The association is to be organized on the Building Association plan, each member to contribute weekly installment of fifty cents. The building alone will cost about $60,000, and it is to be four stories in height. The lot is 67x195 feet, and for the above sum the members of the lodge are of the opinion they can erect a very substantial structure. It is intended that the lodge rooms shall be on the fourth floor, while the first floor will be occupied by stores and the second and third by offices. W. D. Wiles was Chairman and Charles Smith, Secretary of yesterday's meeting. The K. of P. Lodge is a very powerful organization and is growing rapidly. The la-disapolis Division is receiving new members constantly and their present quarters are not near large enough, therefore they will co-operate with the new structure at as early a date as possible.

work evoked continuous applause, in which every part of the audience joined. He drew with astonishing rapidity large cartoons in crayon—houses, ships, faces and elaborate caricatures, making almost all the changes of expression of which the human face is capable as rapidly as his assistant could describe them by the recitation of a humorous poem. Curiosity, fear, laughter, and other emotions were depicted in the same face with a few strokes of the crayon."

Arested in St. Louis.
Superintendent Lang yesterday received a dispatch from St. Louis informing him that John Young, in charge of the contract work with the Surven Wheel Works, had been ar-drew the wages due his subordinates, amounting to $70, and then left the city.

The company traced him to Greencastle, thence westward until the result given above. Sergeant Travis left yesterday and will return with the prisoner to-night.
